Rohit Khatri

JUNIOR WEB DEVELOPER

Profile

As a junior front-end developer, I am a hardworking and enthusiastic individual who is always eager to learn and grow in my role. While I may not have as much experience as some of my more senior colleagues, I am committed to leveraging my skills and knowledge to deliver high-quality work that meets the needs of clients and users.

I approach every project with a positive and can-do attitude, and am always seeking out new opportunities to expand my skillset and take on new challenges. I am a quick learner, and am not afraid to ask questions or seek feedback in order to improve my work.
